BAR ASSOCIATION TO HOST THE KANSAS SUPREME COURT

The Kansas Supreme Court will be holding a special session on October 29, 2014 at the Kansas City, Kansas Community College Performing Arts Center. More information about the special session can be found later in this issue. It is customary for the local bar association to host a reception the night before to welcome the justices, so the Bar Association and the Foundation would like to welcome you to a reception on October 28, 2014 at 5:00 p.m. at the Sporting Park Field Club.

The reception will take the place of our October CLE and meeting which usually happens on the third Wednesday of the month. The CLE will also begin one hour earlier at 3:00 p.m. This month Dr. Sam Cullan of the Cullan Law firm will present a CLE titled "Daubert, Martinez and Personal Injury Update" and Doug Greenwald of McAnany, Van Cleave and Phillips will present "Kansas Uninsured and Underinsured Motorist Insurance—Procedures and Pitfalls." The cost of the CLE is $25 for members and $35 for nonmembers.

In addition to the reception welcoming the Kansas Supreme Court Justices, the Bar Association will also be holding our annual Judges Appreciation Night and The Honorable Leo Moroney will be honored as a Legend of the Bar. The reception will begin at 5:00 p.m. and the program will follow at 6:00 p.m. The cost for the reception and program is $25 for members and $40 for nonmembers and includes heavy hors d'oeuvres with a cash bar available. For parking enter Sprint Plaza on the west side of Sporting Park via West Box Office Lane and follow the instructions of parking personnel. Please RSVP to Executive Secretary Pearl King at (913) 948-0401 or pearlk@kc.rr.com.

A message from our President

Next week is a big week for this Bar Association. The Kansas Supreme Court Justices will be in town and, for that reason, we have modified our monthly meeting in order to hold a reception for our visiting Justices. On October 28, 2014, the Bar Association will host a CLE from 3-5 p.m. at Sporting KC Stadium, followed by a reception for our visiting Justices and in honor of our local Judges. As part of our short program, we will be honoring the Honorable Leo Moroney as our October Legend of the Bar. Please come support all of our Judges and our Bar Association on such an eventful evening.

If the Royals haven't become World Champions by that night, we will look into the possibility of modifying our schedule to accommodate all of your watch parties but, even if we aren't able to do that, we will certainly wrap up our program early enough to give each of you plenty of time to get out and watch the game at your place of choice—as long as your place of choice isn't the K. So please come out for our reception beginning at 5:00 p.m. followed by the program at 6:00 p.m. And certainly also keep an eye out for any announcements about changes to the schedule next week and parking for this event. Also, please be sure to stop by the Kansas City, Kansas Community College Performing Arts Center the next day to watch the oral arguments before our Supreme Court. Thank you all for your support of the Bar Association and your help in making this event a success.

Jane Sieve-Wilson, President

General Procedures

The Kansas Supreme Court is our state's court of last resort. During the special session the Court will hear oral arguments in give cases which have come before the Court. An oral argument is a discussion of the facts and the law involved in the case on appeal. Attorneys on both sides of the appeal are limited to 15 minutes each to present their arguments unless the Court grants additional time. The side challenging the lower court decision, the appellant, presents its argument first, with an opportunity to reserve a portion of the allotted time for rebuttal. The side prevailing in the lower court, the appellee, presents its argument in one block of time.

The attorneys scheduled to argue are seated at the tables to the left and right of the podium. The appellant sits to the left and the appellee to the right. When they present their arguments, the attorneys speak from behind the podium. Each attorney's time is monitored by the Chief Justice, and arguments are stopped at the conclusion of the allotted time unless justices have additional questions. The attorneys may be interrupted from time to time during their arguments by questions from the justices. The purposes of the questions is to clarify the issues for the Court's later discussions in conference.

The Supreme Court sits en banc (with all seven members together) for a week-long period to hear arguments in the cases before them. The Court ordinarily sits in its courtroom in the Kansas Judicial Center in Topeka but has arranged this special session in Kansas City in an effort to make the Court's proceedings Accessible to more people. The procedures followed are typical of any court week.

The justices enter the courtroom from a door on the left and take their positions on the bench. All rise when the bailiff announces the Court's entrance. The Chief Justice enters first and is followed by the rest of the Court by seniority. The justices also sit at the bench in a place designated by seniority. The Chief Justice sits in the middle and the remaining justices alternate to the left and right, with the newest justice sitting on the far right as you face the bench.

The Court announces its decisions by filing them with the Office of the Clerk of the Appellate Courts. Copies are made public and appear at www.kscourts.org.

You may enter or exit the courtroom at any time during the arguments. Please do so as quietly as possible and refrain from talking in the corridor immediately adjacent to the courtroom.
